

Iberian Swordplay Weekend

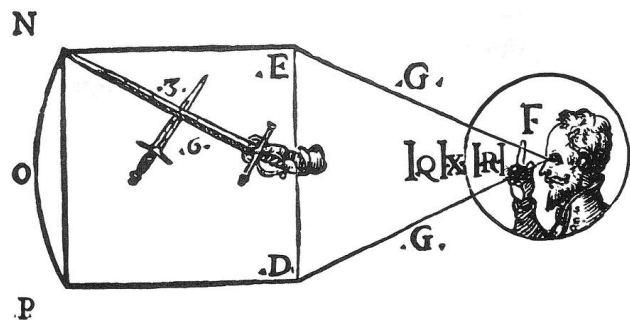

with Maestro Puck Curtis and Maestro Eric Myers Sacramento Sword School

April 21 and 22, 2012 – two full days of swordplay!
at River Valley Complex, 605 S Main St, Leaf River IL

$80 for either day; $140 for two full days after March 24: $100 for either day, $200 for both days

Two full days of swordplay of the Iberian Peninsula: the Spanish system called La Verdadera Destreza (techniques for any sword held in one hand) on Saturday; the following day for the Iberian greatsword Montante (for battle, crowd control, and general mayhem). Presented as a violent and athletic tradition of swordplay, students will learn the science and the art of both La Verdadera Destreza and the Rules of the Montante.

Puck Curtis – cofounder of the Destreza Translation and Research Project; has been an instructor for the Davis Fencing Academy; teaches Destreza at the Sacramento Sword School. Maestro Curtis holds certification as a Master at Arms with the San Jose State University Fencing Master's program.

Eric Myers -- Master at Arms certified by SJSU Fencing Masters Program; teaches at Sacramento Sword School and Sonoma State University Fencing Masters Certificate Program; co-authored (with Steve Hick) a monograph and translation of 17th-C “Memorial of the Practice of the Montante” by Diogo Gomes de Figueiredo. Maestro Myers has taught from this work at international WMA events.
